Fewer Bargains?

Beginning July 12, grocery stores which advertise sales must keep adequate stocks on hand to satisfy reasonable demand, according to a ruling by the Federal Trade Commission. Chains may not use the disclaimer "not all items available in all stores" to avoid the ruling, nor will "rain checks" issue for later redemption at sale prices meet the test.

Consumers who have experienced occasional disappointment as such sales may react to the FTC ruling with initial rejoicing. But on second thought, the FTC may be doing the consumer no favors.

Since citation under the ruling hinges upon the undefined phrase "reasonable demand," grocery stores may be more hesitant to offer sales on some of their merchandise. They cannot afford to absorb losses on large stockpiles of perishable goods. Nor are the interested in filling up warehouse space with quantities of canned goods in anticipation of a response which may not materialize.

It would not be surprising if the FTC ruling resulted in the creation of fewer bargains for the consumer rather than more.—Shreveport (La.) Journal

Salesman Fails to Sell Car

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Millionaire computer magnate Ross Perot told an audience in Miami, Fla., last week that he was driving a 1965 model car because nobody had asked him to buy a new one.

An auto salesman has now attempted three times to ask him, and gotten no where on each try.

The salesman read the Miami story in the Dallas News, which told Sunday of the salesman's experiences:

The salesman called Perot at his office and was told Perot could not speak but would return his call. No luck. The salesman called Perot at his home and was told Perot would return his call. Again, no luck.

The salesman talked his boss into taking a $9,000 model out of stock, making it ready, polishing it into a mirror finish and filling the car with gas.

After spending several hours trying to locate Perot's Dallas address, the salesman went to the Perot home. There armed guards ushered him and the new car from the premises.

Youth on Bicycle Hit

Johnny Porterfield, 10, of Hope, was riding a bicycle Saturday at 2:15 p.m. when he was hit by a pickup truck driven by Emory Jones of Hope. The accident occurred five miles out on the Patmos Road and the youth was taken to Branch Hospital. He has now been taken to a hospital in Little Rock. No charges were filed.

Injuries Are Fatal

LAKE VILLAGE, Ark. (AP) — Thomas Jackson, 42, of Wilmont died Saturday at a Lake Village hospital of injuries he received June 12 in a one-car accident on Arkansas 52 about five miles east of Wilmont.

State Police said Jackson was a passenger in a car driven by Leon Polk, about 40, of Wilmont. Polk was killed in the accident.

Plane Can't Prevent Enemy Raids

By GEORGE ESPER

Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — Despite a week of heavy B52 raids, North Vietnamese regulars made five attacks Sunday on South Vietnamese forces guarding the northern frontier.

It was the second day of heavy attacks in the northern sector. The enemy also directed some of his attacks at American troops Sunday and early today. A U.S. base camp on the outskirts of Da Nang was shelled, an American patrol was ambushed just below the demilitarized zone and three other U.S. positions were attacked, two of them in the Saigon region.

Casualties reported included five South Vietnamese soldiers killed, more than 17 wounded; Two Americans killed, more than 10 wounded, and 31 North

Israel Wants Recognition From Russia

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Israeli government expects the Soviet Union to initiate steps to resume contacts broken off at the time of the 1967 Arab-Israeli war, Foreign Minister Abba Eban said Sunday.

"Such an initiative is desirable and Israel is ready for it," Eban told a meeting of American Jews in Jerusalem. He said Moscow realizes "it cannot ignore Israel's importance in the Middle East and needs some understanding with Israel."

Romania is the only member of the Soviet bloc that did not break diplomatic relations with Israel because of the 1967 war.

Meanwhile Premier Saeb Salam of Lebanon was beginning a three-day official visit to Jordan today, and there was speculation he would try to mediate between King Hussein's government and the Palestinian guerrillas who continue to challenge the Jordanian army.

Salam met with guerrillas leader Yasir Arafat Sunday night for a review of the situation.

Other talks on the Middle East situation opened Sunday in Cairo between President Anwar Sadat and King Faisal of Saudi Arabia.

Informed sources said Faisal brief Sadat on his talks with President Nixon during his recent visit to Washington, while Sadat told his guest about his talks last month in Cairo with Secretary of State William P. Rogers.

Hit by Criticism But Cereals Are Back on the Breakfast Table

By G. DAVID WALLACE

AP Consumer Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Nearly a year after an obscure civil engineer turned hunger crusader attacked cereals as boxes of empty calories, the old favorites are back on top of the breakfast table.

What at first blush appeared to be a buyer revolt now looks like nothing more than a fleeting spasm.

In the immediate wake of the charges leveled against dry cereals by Robert Choate in testimony before a Senate committee, many a consumer switched to highly fortified brands, and these products still claim scattered pockets of loyalty.

But the Big Three manufacturers—Kellogg, Post and General Mills—say their customers settled back into old buying habits within two months.

The nation's largest food chain, A&P, said a spot check of their stores confirmed the

LBJ Declares Papers Not True Picture

NEW YORK (AP) — Former President Lyndon B. Johnson believes the secret Pentagon study of the Vietnam war does not reflect the true picture of his role, according to reports in Time and Newsweek magazines.

Time, in a report on the Pentagon study controversy, said that Johnson feels the documents "do not tell the true story because they are mostly contingency plans."

Newsweek said Johnson believes the study presents a dishonest, distorted and biased picture of his role and that the circumstances surrounding its being leaked to the New York Times "come close to treason."

Quoting "those in Austin privy to his feelings," Newsweek said the former president sees "the ghostly hand of Robert Kennedy."

According to this view, Newsweek reported, the late New York senator needed an issue for his intended 1968 challenge to Johnson for the Democratic presidential nomination and "pinned his hopes on Vietnam."

The study was ordered by then Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara. Newsweek said Johnson considered McNamara "a Kennedy man."

Time, which noted that it gave no source for Johnson's views, said Johnson feels that his greatest mistake in the war was waiting until he had been in office 18 months before sending American soldiers into battle "for by then he felt that Vietnam was almost lost."

Time also said Johnson believes he made a mistake in "failing to institute censorship, not to cover up mistakes, but to prevent the enemy from knowing what the United States was going to do next."

Newsweek quoted Daniel Ellsberg, the man who was named by a former New York Times newsman as the source of the Times' documents, as saying in an interview last week that he had tried unsuccessfully to get Henry Kissinger, President Nixon's foreign affairs advisor, to read the study.

"Now he can read it in the papers," Ellsberg was quoted as saying in an interview at his Cambridge, Mass., home before he dropped out of sight last Wednesday.

Ellsberg has not been seen publicly since, although he telephoned the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, where he is a research associate, on Friday to report that he was well.

general pattern. Two exceptions were Chicago's Jewel Food Stores and Washington's Giant Food, regional chains which support consumer information programs. They said the heavily fortified cereals seized an additional 12 to 20 percent of the market at their stores, and are holding onto the new business.

Since Choate testified that dry cereals "have calories and little else," makers of the popular brands have introduced more nutritious products, but they have said they were planning them all along, anyway.

The government is working on two studies, one of competition within the industry; the other of possible limits on fortification of cereals. Neither has been completed.

British Keep Red Defector Under Wraps

By COLIN FROST

Associated Press Writer
LONDON (AP) — British security chiefs kept Soviet space scientist Anatol Fedoseyev under wraps today as newspaper commentators speculated on the likely effects of his defection.

The Home Office announced Sunday that the 52-year-old scientist was in Britain and "has been given permission to stay."

Unofficial sources said he was a deputy minister in charge of space research and the brains behind the Soviet Union's Soyuz space station and Luna moon programs, and apparently the most important Soviet defector since World War II.

Fedoseyev disappeared three weeks ago while attending the Paris Air Show as deputy head of the Soviet delegation. Unofficial sources said he spent some of the intervening time in Brussels, headquarters of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Some British newspapers said the defector was holed up on a London suburb with an English woman he had met in Moscow. Others said he had previous contacts with British aerospace experts and probably with members of the four American space delegations that visited the Soviet Union in the past year.

Kenneth Gaitland, vice president of the British Interplanetary Society, thought the defection might hamper future Soviet-American cooperation in space, including plans for joint space rescue arrangements.

But a 20-man Soviet team arrived in Houston, Tex., Sunday night to open discussions with American space experts on common spaceship docking systems, and officials of the U.S. National Aeronautics and Space Administration said they could not see how the defection would affect the talks.

Peter Fairley, science correspondent of Britain's Independent Television network, said Fedoseyev's value to the West may lie less in his scientific knowledge than in his familiarity with Soviet space and defense planning.

Fairley argued that technically U.S. space scientists already know more than their Soviet counterparts. But he said Fedoseyev could have invaluable information on the timing of any Soviet plans to put men on the moon and Mars and on the thinking behind Soviet missile and antimissile systems.

Another vital question for the West is whether the Salute space laboratory now circling the earth with three cosmonauts aboard or the Cosmos series of unmanned Soviet satellites can detect Polaris submarines at sea.

In Homestretch High Court May Rule on Ali, Church-run Colleges

By BARRY SCHWEID

Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court today headed into the homestretch of the 1970-71 term with major action expected on Muhammad Ali, public aid to church-run colleges and government wiretapping.

The Justices, preparing to recess until October, are disposing of a pile of last-minute business, including 15 argued cases and some 200 petitions for hearings, in the two last sittings today and next Monday.

Ali, the 29-year-old former heavyweight boxing champion also known as Cassius Clay, could go to prison for five years unless his draft conviction is reversed. The sole legal question is whether he was eligible for an exemption as a pacifist.

Unperturbed, at least outwardly, he began training last Wednesday for a scheduled fight in Houston's wondrousome July 26 with Jimmy Ellis. If the Court rules against him he may

U.S. Court to Rule on Wiretapping

WASHINGTON (AP) —

The Supreme court agreed today to rule on the legality of government wiretapping of domestic groups the Justice Department decides pose a danger to national security.

The question is whether a judge must approve the wiretapping in advance. Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell contends judicial approval is not necessary. The federal appeals court in Cincinnati contends it is required by the 4th Amendment to the Constitution.

The Supreme Court will hear the government's appeal from the ruling, involving surveillance of the now-defunct White Panther party, next term.

Mitchell's position is that the Justice Department, exercising a presidential power, has the constitutional authority to wiretap, without judicial approval, groups the government suspects pose a danger to national security.

The attorney general thereby draws no legal distinction between the gathering of foreign intelligence information and alleged threats from outside powers and the gathering of information.

Rules Youths Can Be Tried Without Jury

By BARRY SCHWEID

Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Juveniles accused of crime can be tried without juries, the Supreme Court ruled 6 to 3 today. The decision, delivered by Justice Harry A. Blackmun, approved the current practice in a majority of the states.

It ended a process in the high court of affording juvenile defendants many Bill of Rights protections. In other actions today, the court:

—Agreed to rule on the legality of government wiretapping of domestic groups the Justice Department decides pose a danger to national security.

—Granted the government a hearing on its power to seize, as obscene, imported material designed for an individual's private use and possession.

—Refused a hearing to Marin Sweig, former aide to retired House Speaker John McCormack, on his perjury conviction.

Blackmun said if juveniles had jury trials, as adults do, they would suffer the delay and clamor that mark the criminal adversary system.

The justice said: "If, in its wisdom, any state feels the jury trial is desirable in all cases, or in certain kinds, there appears to be no impediment to its installing a system embracing that feature."

"That, however, is the state's privilege and not its obligation."

The ruling demonstrated again the court's swing to the right. Backing Blackmun was Chief Justice Warren E. Burger and Justices John M. Harlan, Potter Stewart, Byron R. White and, to a limited extent, William J. Brennan Jr.

In dissent stood Justices William O. Douglas, Hugo L. Black and Thurgood Marshall.

The judgment came in cases from Pennsylvania and North Carolina. In Philadelphia, two 15-year-old boys had sought jury trials when brought up on delinquency charges. In Hyde County, N.C., similar claims were asserted by 46 black youths arrested during demonstrations.

Blackmun said juvenile court proceedings are not criminal prosecutions within the meaning of the Sixth Amendment, which guarantees jury trials. He said the states must be left considerable leeway to judge juveniles, so long as "fundamental fairness" is observed.

Four Persons Die on State Highways

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Four persons died on Arkansas' highways this past weekend. One of the victims, Jerald Fitts, 15, of near Brinkley died in an accident on a county road near Brinkley Sunday night.

State Police said he was a passenger in a car driven by Richard Hicks, 16, of near Brinkley. The car went out of control, overturned twice and struck a tree.

Fitts was thrown from the car, police said. The Associated Press weekend fatality count began at 6 p.m. Friday and ended at midnight Sunday.

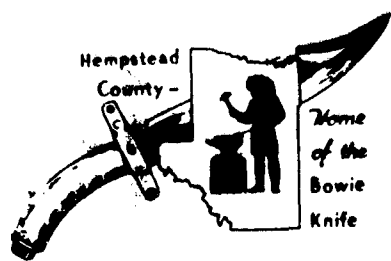

Other victims were: —Daniel Burton, 14, of Austin (Lonoke County) who was killed Sunday when he fell from the back of a pickup truck near Cabot. Police said he was sitting in a rocking chair in the back of the truck when the accident occurred.

—Kenneth Norris of Strong, 24, was killed in a one-car accident on U.S. 62 near Strong Sunday morning.

—Donald Smith, 23, of Arkadelphia was killed Friday night in a one-car accident on Arkansas 9 near Arkadelphia.

ational plans in the war. Both the Times and the Post remained under restraints not to publish articles about the study pending outcome of the court actions. Prior to the government's efforts to stop publication, the Times published three installments from the study and the Post two. Deciding to bring the Times case before the full Court of Appeals, Chief Judge Henry J. Friendly said: "This case raises a question of such extraordinary importance that it should be heard by all the judges." The Washington testimony concerning current sensitivity of the Pentagon documents was given by Dennis Doolin, deputy assistant secretary of defense for international security affairs. It came as the government opened its case by renewing its contention that publication of the material by the press would result in irreparable damage to national security. The Times case went before the 2nd Circuit on appeal by the government following rejection Saturday of the government's request for a preliminary injunction against the newspaper.

Common Docking Ship a Big Step

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Discussion here by American and Soviet experts on building common spaceship docking systems is a major step toward cooperation and could signal an end to 14 years of intense competition between the two space powers. All competition, especially in military space projects, will not cease in the foreseeable future, but encouraging strides are being made in many areas. A 20-man team of Russian scientists, engineers and a cosmonaut flew to Houston Sunday night for five days of conferences to set guidelines for future sessions on the docking apparatus. The Soviets and Americans are broken into three working groups to consider (1) compatibility of over-all methods and means of rendezvous and docking, (2) compatible radio, guidance and optical systems and (3) docking assembly and transfer tunnels. Although the purpose of developing common docking mechanisms is not spelled out in the agreement, a primary reason would be earth-orbit rescue missions. Eventually, this capability could be used in joint space exploration, with scientists, engineers and medical specialists of both countries working together in orbiting laboratories. In another cooperative endeavor the two nations exchanged moon samples June 10. The Russians got six grams of material collected by the Apollo 11 and 12 astronauts, and the Americans received three grams picked up by the unmanned Luna 16. It hasn't always been so. From the time Russia ushered in the space age with Sputnik 1 in 1957, the Soviet and American space programs have been the national barometers of technical expertise and have been used as political plays and pawns by both premiers and presidents. The competition was intense as the two nations charged on parallel paths toward landing men on the moon. The Soviets, far behind, gave up the moon race in 1968 and shifted attention to developing a manned space laboratory, the forerunner of which is now orbiting earth with three cosmonauts. Last year the Soviet attitude began to change and a spirit of cooperation bloomed. It was first evidenced in the greater amount of data presented by Russian scientists at international space meetings.

Dole Is Critical of N.Y. Times

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Sen. Robert J. Dole, Republican national committee chairman, has criticized the New York Times for printing articles on a secret Pentagon study of the Vietnam war. Dole said here Saturday that publication of the study "endangered the sanctity" of talks and negotiations involving not only Vietnam, but strategic arms limitations, the Middle East and the status of Berlin. Dole told a $25-a-plate dinner, however, that the disclosures "will make completely obvious who is to blame for getting us into this war." "I believe the Times articles, and those that may follow, will make it completely obvious as to who is to blame for getting us into this war, for escalating it, for starting the bombing, for sending in more than a half a million troops and — and I do not say this with any relish — for deceiving the American people," Dole said. "The contrast is stark," he said. "After nearly eight years of escalation and deception by other administrations, Richard Nixon is winding down the war, he is bringing American fighting men home, and he is keeping the American people informed factually and frequently." Dole said, however, that the Times had been "irresponsible, perhaps dangerously and certainly destructively so" by printing the articles. "No longer can heads of state be sure that their private talks, so essential in intercourse between nations, will remain private," Dole said.

mation "deemed necessary to protect the nation from attempts of domestic organizations" to subvert the government. Mitchell contends all such wiretapping is not outlawed by the Fourth Amendment, which forbids "unreasonable" searches and seizures, and is authorized also by the 1968 federal crime control law.

In an appeal to the Supreme Court May 8, the Justice Department said "the line between domestic activity and foreign intelligence is often blurred, or merged."

The U.S. Circuit Court in Cincinnati, in a 2 to 1 ruling last April, held domestic surveillance without judicial approval unlawful under the Fourth Amendment.

The case involves government wiretapping of Lawrence Plamondon, a White Panther accused of bombing a Center Intelligence Agency office at Ann Arbor, Mich.

Vietnamese and Viet Cong killed.

The U.S. Command sent 15 more B52s over the northern sector to drop 450 tons of bombs. During the past week, the big bombers have flown 90 strike missions against suspected North Vietnamese positions in the area and dropped 2,700 tons of bombs. The U.S. Command has announced no assessment of bomb damage.

In one attack Sunday, the North Vietnamese troops fired mortars and rockets into Camp Fuller, a former U.S. base seven miles south of the DMZ, and four hours later made a ground assault against the mountain-top position.

The North Vietnamese also attacked a nearby South Vietnamese Marine position with mortars, machine guns and recoilless cannon, killing five marines and wounding 15.

Two other attacks were reported against South Vietnamese infantrymen farther south along the eastern edge of the A Shau valley. South Vietnamese headquarters said both attacks were repulsed.

South Vietnamese marines searching through an area northwest of Firebase Sarge, another base near the DMZ, reported finding the bodies of 12 North Vietnamese soldiers.

Viet Cong frogmen blew up a 37-yard span of an 800-yard bridge on the main north-south highway about 200 miles south of Da Nang, but South Vietnamese engineers were expected to have the span replaced by nightfall.

not be able to make that date. The mandate would go out after 30 days unless Ali's lawyers persuade a justice there is good reason to hold it up.

The church-affiliated universities have hundreds of millions of dollars at stake as the justices prepare to rule on federal construction grants and state salary supplements for lay teachers.

Under a 1963 law, the government has dispensed $2.4-billion in grants to private and public colleges. An estimated 10 percent, or about $240-million, has gone to church-associated campuses.

The funds are used principally to build laboratories and gymnasiums. The question is whether this is aid to religion in violation of the Constitution. Meanwhile, 36 of the 50 states have programs to assist private colleges. Catholic schools are the principal beneficiaries.

Before the Court is the $19.7-million a year Pennsylvania provides nonpublic schools in teacher salaries, textbooks and some instructional material and the salary supplements of $900 each for lay teachers in Rhode Island.

Here, too, the extent of the wall between church and state is at issue.

Pending also among the 15 argued cases are such matters as the jury trial rights of juveniles and the authority of customs inspectors to order travelers to submit to strip-searches.

Several major questions are posed in the scores of appeals for hearings next term. The biggest case involves the Nixon administration's wiretapping policy.

The U.S. president has a limited veto power; the sovereign of Great Britain still holds the power of absolute veto.

CAROL ANN WALTERS

MAGNOLIA — Carol Ann Walters of McCaskill has been awarded an academic scholarship to Southern State College for the 1971-72 school year, according to Bernard H. Polk, director of student aids.

The $300 scholarship, which is one of a number awarded by Southern State to outstanding Arkansas high school graduates, is renewable for four years provided the student maintains a 3.00 or higher grade point average while carrying at least 15 semester hours, Polk said.

Miss Walters is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dutch Walters of Rt. 1, McCaskill, and a 1971 graduate of Blevins High School, where she was a member of the Beta Club, Student Council, FTA, FHA and a listee in the National Merit Who's Who.

Court Orders Pollution Cases Tried

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Supreme Court directed today that a trial be held on three suits filed against a food processing plant to recover damages allegedly resulting from wastes discharged into the Greene Forest sewer system.

Associate Justice Conley Byrd wrote the majority opinion that reversed a decision by Circuit Judge W. H. Enfield in the Eastern District of Carroll County Circuit Court.

Suits had been filed by Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Ratzlaff, Mr. and Mrs. Harold C. Collins and Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Molter against Franz Foods of Arkansas, a subsidiary of Tyson Foods.

The suits allege that noxious wastes discharged into the sewer system of Greene Forest polluted Dry Creek, a stream running through the property of the Ratzlaffs, Collinses and Molters, who are dairy farmers.

The complaints stated that Franz utilized the sewers of Greene Forest under a contract that required the poultry processor to remove from its deposits into the sewer system refuse, offal of fowls, blood, wastes and other unwholesome, offensive and noxious waste products.

The purpose of the contract was to prevent the city's sewage facilities from becoming oversaturated, resulting in harm to land owners located downstream from the sewage facilities, the suits contended.

The three suits alleged that Franz had failed to comply with the contract.

The Supreme Court said that Enfield apparently dismissed the suits under the principle that the user of a city sewer is immune from liability once he lawfully deposits sewage in the system.

"The theory upon which immunity from liability is granted to the user is that once the sewage is deposited in the city's conduit, the user no longer has control of the disposal of the sewage because by law the city is given the exclusive right to control and dispose of sewage," Byrd wrote.

He said, however, that "the very essence of the immunity from liability" is based upon proper adherence to any contractual obligation permitting use of a sewer system.

When lawsuits allege violation of a contract, "it does not logically follow that a user in violation of his contract can wrest the control of the city's sewage facilities from the city and at the same time stand behind the immunity," Byrd wrote.

In other cases, the court: —Upheld the conviction, $2,000 fine and 15-year prison sentences imposed on Ralph William Erwin and James Bailey Jr. in connection with dynamiting of a building in Fort Smith last year in connection with a labor dispute.

—Affirmed the conviction and life imprisonment sentence given Bobby Gene Tarkington in the rape of a 15-year-old married girl in North Little Rock at

Whites Staying in State, Others Leave

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A study shows that the number of whites leaving Arkansas decreased in the 1960s while the number of nonwhites leaving the state increased.

The University of Arkansas Industrial Research and Extension Center, which is the summary census tape processing center for the state, compiled the figures.

Arkansas' population increased 137,023 to 1,923,295 between 1960 and 1970, but there was an estimated net migration of more than 51,000 persons from the state during the same period. The migration figure indicates that 43,026 whites moved into the state while more than 94,000 nonwhite persons moved out of the state in the 10-year period.

Rotary Told About Boys State Meet

Rotary Club representatives, Sandy Eakley, Bill Moore, and Janice Hopson told the Hope Rotary Club about Girls State and Boys State, when the weekly club luncheon was held at the Town and Country Friday, June 18. In a program arranged by Rotarian Harold Eakley, the students told of their experiences at the camp, where all had learned much about citizenship and patriotism.

The Girls State encampment was begun in 1943 and has now grown to be the largest one in the United States, the club was told. Going to camp and the political campaigning after getting there were told about with humor by Sandy Eakley and Janice Hopson reported on several good speakers she had heard. Bill Moore summarized his experiences and expressed appreciation to the Rotarians for sponsoring him at Boys State. Over 1,000 boys attended and learned much about the two party system by seeing it in action.

President C. R. "Dick" Moore welcomed the guests who, besides the speakers, included E. E. Hurley and James E. Lowder, both of Little Rock, and John Shaw of Hope.

Joe Adonis Banished by Italians

MILAN, Italy (AP) — Joe Adonis, once described by the late Sen. Estes Kefauver as "the most sinister of all" U.S. underworld figures, is to be exiled from his suspected gangland connections.

A Milan court considered sending him to exile with 18 Mafia suspects on the barren Aeolian isle of Linosa or with 15 others on the Isle of Filicudi. But it chose instead to banish the 69-year-old Adonis to Serra de Conti, a sleepy little town of 3,000 inland from Anconia on the Adriatic.

Adonis had pleaded with the court: "I'm a sick old man. If you send me to exile it'll kill me."

Revival at New Hope

A revival is now in progress at the New Hope Baptist Church, four miles north of Hope on Highway 4, and will continue through June 27. Services are at 10 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. daily. Kenneth Bobo of Memphis, Tenn. is the evangelist. Chester Daniels is pastor.

New Hotel at Little Rock

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A $5 million high-rise hotel will be built in Little Rock at the intersection of University Avenue and Wilbur D. Mills Freeway.

A spokesman said Saturday the hotel would be "affiliated with a major chain," but refused to identify the chain. The 250-room facility is tentatively scheduled for October 1972.

IT ISN'T EASY, HAVING AN AFFAIR

Dear Helen:
Are there really as many extra-marital affairs going on as people assume, from all the talk and stuff written about them? I mean, how do unfaithful mates manage it? I can see where a traveling salesman might go in for hanky-panky, but at home? Even if I have a very innocent lunch with a business acquaintance, I'm bound to see a "friend" who is quick with the raised eyebrows.

I'm sure I'd know the minute my husband tried a little something on the side—because his coming-home pattern would change—and most men can't take off from work during the daytime.

Likewise, if I fell for another man, where and when could we meet, what with children to care for, my job, the neighbors and various people-watchers always getting in the way?

I'm not asking for a guide to double-living, Helen. I just wonder whether trying to have an affair would be worth all the trouble, and if it remains "secret," is it simply because the other partner knows but keeps eyes closed? —CURIOUS

Dear Curious:
The man who asks the price of a yacht can't afford one.

The woman who wonders whether an affair would be worth the trouble isn't the type to have one. Infidelity is for people who either enjoy living dangerously or don't care whom they hurt; and you're probably right: the "secret"—seldom is.

I doubt that you and your husband need worry about the other's unfaithfulness, lucky you! —H.

P.S. . . . And then there are those who "see" what may not be there, to wit:

Dear Helen:

We started renting to a couple and, as our houses are on the same lot, we see them often. She is about 55 and her husband is much older and retired.

My husband couldn't do enough for them—always making repairs, etc. Said he wanted to be "a good landlord."

I went away for a day and when I came back I saw my husband coming from their garage (where there is also an old sofa). I swear he smelled like the cologne he got for Christmas two years ago and never used because he didn't "want to put on airs."

I asked him what he was doing over there and he said he had to fix a cupboard door. He doesn't go over so much now, BUT—

Ever since then this woman has worn dresses instead of the baggy pants she used to live in. And my husband keeps on having lots of excuses when I try to get him interested in ME, except

HOPE (ARK.) STAR, Printed by Offset Wedding Vows Are Repeated

MRS. MIKE FEEMSTER

In a double-ring ceremony solemnized at eight o'clock in the evening on Friday, June 4th, in the Sunset Church of Christ of Nashville, Miss Sue Rodgers and Mike Feemster pledged their wedding vows with M. H. Peebles officiating. A reception at the church followed the ceremony.

Parents of the couple are J.T. Rodgers of McCaskill and the late Mrs. Rodgers and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Gallaher of Nashville.

An archway of candles with baskets of white gladioli and greenery with long satin streamers in the sanctuary of the church formed the setting for the wedding.

The church chorus presented nuptial selections.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an Empire gown designed of white satin with an overlay of organza. Venise lace trimmed the high neck and cuffs of the bishop sleeves. Her chapel length train was outlined with the same lace.

The illusion veil was held by a head-dress of lace. She carried a bouquet of carnations centered with an orchid.

Miss Kathy Montgomery of Blevins served as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Mary Ann Carman of Blevins and Miss Debbie Stone of Longview, Texas, cousin of the bride. Billy White of Nashville served the groom as best man. Groomsmen were Gary Tinsley and Rusty Darling, both of Nashville.

Tommy Webb of McCaskill and Freddy Aylett of Nashville were ushers. Jeff Stone of Longview, cousin of the bride, and Bobby Lynn McLaughlin of Nashville lighted the candles. Little Miss Terry Lynn Feemster niece of the groom, was flower girl and Master Todd Feemster, nephew of the groom, acted as ringbearer.

After a wedding trip to Dallas, the couple will be at home in McCaskill.

State's Quality of Life Praised

WALDRON, Ark. (AP)—Rep. John Paul Hammerschmidt, R-Ark., said Sunday that the quality of life in Arkansas is better than that in urban areas.

Hammerschmidt spoke at the dedication of the 35-acre Soble Davidson Park, north of here on U.S. 71.

He announced that he had arranged to have a F-84 fighter plan sent to the park for display.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer NEW YORK (AP) — The educational television stations' "Fanfare" hour Sunday night was an American version of a French one-man show, but more than anything else a 60-minute demonstration of novel effects that can be used to entertain the eye as well as the ear.

The star was the French singer and composer Gilbert Becaud who sang—mostly his own numbers—for the hour. The show was almost entirely in French, although Becaud's English seemed very good when he used it.

Just about every camera trick in the book was used around him, all sorts of double and triple exposures. At one point he was singing in front of a moving gallery of old French posters. One whole number was built around oranges, another around roses and still another around flashlights and all created bizarre effects.

From beginning to end, everything but the music was unusual. In fact, the backgrounds were so ingenious and novel that they became the foreground, throwing the show out of shape.

Still, the hour should be an inspiration for those who produce the home-grown variety hours which, particularly this last season, have slipped into a dull rut.

Day-time Sunday programming—on and off the networks—seems to involve bunnies. There are all the kiddie shows early in the day, followed by a scattering of religious programs. Shortly after noon there come, in rapid succession, three news interview programs, one per network. After noon, when not dedicated to sports, are hours when one may get his fill of really old and usually very bad movies.

It sometimes seems a waste that three of the best news interview shows arrive at what for many people is a busy part of the day—12:30 p.m. to 2 p.m. This Sunday, CBS' "Face the Nation" kicked off the period with a leisurely and interesting interview with presidential aspirant Sen. George McGovern, D-S.D. It was followed by NBC's "Meet the Press" with a father's day special starring Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., and his son, Rep. James W. Symington, D-Mo. Finally there was ABC's "Issues and Answers" with a pre-taped interview with West German Chancellor Willy Brandt.

The simple format of "Face the Nation" and "Meet the Press"—well-prepared, aggressive questioners who keep the controls on the questioners' side—is very satisfactory from switched the emphasis of his attacks on the food industry to criticism of its advertising, particularly its television advertising.

"The press picked up the nutritional aspect and sort of skipped over the advertising," he said in an interview. "So I've been concentrating on the advertising."

Choate contended his testimony hit the industry hard and enhanced the in-house positions of nutritionists, who he claims had been subservient to the advertising men.

The industry-supported Cereal Institute, as well as the cereal manufacturers themselves, cite nutrition education efforts which include advertisements, pamphlets, teacher resource kits and classroom games in which the winner is the team with the best breakfast over a few weeks' time. The most extensive of the industry-wide efforts, package panels with nutritional information, got started about the same time Choate testified.

Kellogg's has increased fortification of its presweetened cereals to account for a third of the minimum daily adult requirement for eight crucial vitamins. General Mills has come out with some super-fortified "monster cereals" called "Frankenberry" and "Count Chocula," and Post is introducing "Pebbles."

The new cereals were being planned before Choate's blast and have nothing to do with him, said a Kellogg spokesman. "People are just generally interested in nutrition who have not been before."

The Federal Trade Commission acknowledged it has received responses from all six companies involved in its investigation of whether the breakfast cereal industry is controlled by so few firms that effective competition is impossible. Beyond that, FTC officials refused to comment.

Complaints of Post Office Discrimination

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A group of civil rights leaders has again asked Postmaster General Winton M. Blount to investigate complaints that the Little Rock Post Office discriminated against black employees.

Reforms in Welfare Back Again

By EDMOND LeBRETON
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House resumed a year-long struggle over welfare reform today, opening debate on a bill that would also substantially increase Social Security benefits and raise payroll taxes.

Its most controversial component would set up in place of the state-by-state federally aided welfare system a plan administered and largely financed from Washington.

This is based on President Nixon's recommendation for a family income assurance, $2,400 for four persons, including the "working poor." It provides work incentives, including a requirement that able-bodied recipients, including mothers of school-age children and ultimately of children over three years old, must accept job training and referral.

The plan is under fire from two directions. Some liberals say the federal income level is too low and that states, while they may supplement it, are not required to do so. They object also to the work requirements as too drastic.

At the other end of the scale, some conservatives object on principle to the assured income and say the widened eligibility rules could add 10 million persons to the rolls.

Backers, however, are predicting victory. Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., of the House Ways and Means Committee, said the present system is "now completely out of control," with costs in the category of families with dependent children rising more than 40 per cent in a year.

Unless the House overturns the procedures set by its Rules Committee, which is not expected, the bill cannot be amended, but opponents will have one chance to vote for knocking out the whole welfare section.

The vote is expected Tuesday.

The Social Security portion faces much less opposition.

processing grievances.

The group wrote a letter to Blount saying no investigation had been conducted despite an April 7 letter to the postmaster general seeking a probe.

The group wrote that it met with what was termed an "investigating committee" that had been sent from St. Louis, but that the committee had no authority to conduct an inquiry to hear employee grievances.

"They said they had been sent to 'restore communications between the post office and the black community,'" the letter said.

Nicklaus Vs. Trevino Today

By RALPH BERNSTEIN
Associated Press Sports Writer
ARDMORE, Pa. (AP) — Jack Nicklaus plays his Frankenstein monster, Lee Trevino, in an 18 hole playoff today for the 71st annual U.S. Open Golf championship.

Nicklaus and Trevino wound up in a tie Sunday after 72 holes, when Trevino missed a six foot putt and took a bogey on the 18th hole, while Nicklaus two putted for a par on the same green. They each scored a par 280 for the 72-hole test over Merion Golf Club's short but demanding course.

Nicklaus posted rounds of 69-72-68-71 and Trevino 70-72-69-68 to set up the 25th playoff in U.S. Open history.

Third round leader Jim Simons, the 21-year-old amateur from Butler, Pa., who led after three rounds, buckled under the intense pressure, double bogeying the final hole and winding up with a six over par 76, tied for sixth place.

The Frankenstein monster creation by Nicklaus was attested to by Trevino after he shot a one under par 69 Sunday to come from four strokes off the 54-hole pace to a tie and playoff. They will playoff starting at 1:45 p.m. EDT today.

Trevino told of how Nicklaus gave him words of encouragement last February. "And I've played unbelievably since," said the 31-year-old resident of El Paso, Tex.

It was after an exhibition in West Palm Beach, Fla., that Nicklaus and Trevino had a conversation in the locker room. Trevino recalled that he told Nicklaus that he was skipping the Masters because he didn't feel his game was geared to the course at Augusta.

"He (Nicklaus) said 'Let me tell you something.' He said 'you can play anywhere you want to.' He said 'I hope you never find out how good you can play because it will give the rest of us a little better chance to win.'"

Trevino's record since that locker room conversation is two victories, twice he missed winning by one shot, lost one playoff, finished second, fourth, 10th, 12th and 37th and earned $110,000.

Trevino tied for the lead on the 12th hole of Sunday's final round over the 6,544-yard Merion course, treacherous layout of 124 bunkers, rough as thick as hay and greens that had Nicklaus talking to himself at times.

On the 12th, Trevino said he made a shot he almost didn't believe. He hit a nine iron that almost ran over the green, but the backspin and downward slope of the green left the ball inches from the hole. He sank the putt for a birdie three tying him with Nicklaus and Simons, who were playing together.

Trevino took the lead at the 14th where he put his drive in the fairway and his second shot about 12 inches to the left of the pin and made the putt to go one under for the tournament, a stroke ahead of Nicklaus.

The 5-foot-7 Trevino only had to make par at 18, and he would have forced Nicklaus to birdie at least one of the last two holes to tie. His second shot, however, went to the rough near the right rear of the green. He chipped to within six feet and missed for a bogey.

Nicklaus, who is seeking his 12th major golf championship, only one behind the record 13 earned by bantam Ben Hogan, had trouble all day with one of his best clubs, the three wood. He couldn't keep the ball in the fairway.

Nicklaus knew that he could win it all with a birdie at 18, and he gave it all he had. His booming drive was the best he hit all day, and he hit a four iron to the green 12 to 15 feet from the pin. The crowd of better than 16,000 hushed as he studied the putt.

"Actually it was an easy putt," Nicklaus related. "It was straight and I must have pulled it a few inches off." Then he tapped in for his par and a tie. Nicklaus also had clutch

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Mrs. Jacqueline Kott, 32, a Jacksonville, Ark., housewife finished fourth Sunday in the women's division of the 7th World Bowling championships here.

Mrs. Kott, who had led the women after the first 18 games, had a 4567 total.

Mrs. Penny McCain, 19, of Detroit, won the event with a 4659 total and a 194 average.

West Wins in King Benefit

By MIKE HARRIS

Associated Press Sports Writer
INDIANAPOLIS (AP) —

John Barnhill, a veteran of both the National Basketball League and the American Basketball League, flashed a grin and said, "That's the way this game should be played. Nice and loose."

Barnhill, still playing for the ABA Denver Rockets, acted as coach of the West squad in Sunday's Martin Luther King Benefit game here, which attracted six NBA players and 17 ABA players.

The West made Barnhill a winning coach by downing the East squad 111-100 in the hot Indiana State Fairgrounds Coliseum, but the score mattered much less than the action.

A paid crowd of 6,078 was announced. The actual number of spectators appeared much less than that figure. However, the game was nationally televised and the people there were animated.

The game was dominated by the West, but there were a number of features to keep the folks interested.

First, the East, coached by former pro and college coach John McClendon, started five hometown Indiana Pacers, much to the delight of the crowd.

Then NBA greets Earl Monroe of Baltimore, Cazzie Russell of San Francisco and Connie Hawkins of Phoenix combined with ABA starts Jimmy Jones of Memphis, Larry Jones and Mack Calvin of the Floridians and Willie Wise and Zelmo Beaty of the Utah Stars to give the fans plenty of fireworks for the West.

Finally, young John Brisker of the ABA's Pittsburgh team, the game's high-scorer with 21 points, put a topper on the show with some dazzling play for the East.

Other focal points included Calvin-led fast breaks, some sleight-of-hand passing by Monroe, Russell and Indiana's Roger Brown, and soaring dunk shots by Hawkins.

"The Hawk" was voted Most Valuable Player by the press, the second time he's won that honor in the four-year history of the game.

Six players scored in double figures for the West, led by Jimmie Jones with 14 points. Wise, Larry Jones and Monroe scored 13 each. Brown followed Brisker in the East scoring with 14 points.

Albatross Wins Prix d'Ete

MONTREAL (AP) — Albatross, winner of the first leg of harness racing's Triple Crown at Brandywine Racetrack June 5, paced the mile in 1:57 2-5 Sunday to win the $75,000 Prix d'Ete at Blue Bonnets Raceway by 4 1/2 lengths.

It was the three-year-old's fifth straight win this season and the first-place purse $37,500 ran Albatross' lifetime earnings to $349,526.

Stanley Dancer, in the suky, pushed Albatross into the lead at the half-mile pole and the son of Meadow Skipper by Voodoo Hanover never trailed.

Dexter Hanover, a 22-1 shot, was second.

Albatross paid $2.20 and $210 while Deter Hanover returned $4.60.

putts at 15, 16, and 17, rolling them in from about six feet twice and four feet. "You've got to make some putts along the line to have a chance," he said.

Phillies Down Mets; 9-7 Score

By DICK COUCH

Associated Press Sports Writer
The gates appeared to be swinging open for the New York Mets, but Deron Johnson and Willie Stargell slammed them shut in a hurry.

Philadelphia salvaged a doubleheader split at New York Sunday by beating the Mets 9-7 in 11 innings on Johnson's first bases-loaded home run in 15 professional seasons.

While the Phillies were rebounding from a 7-6 loss in the opener, the Pittsburgh Pirates came from behind to complete a doubleheader sweep and widen their lead in the National League East by slugging Montreal 7-3 on Stargell's fifth career grand slam.

The Pirates, who won the first game 7-1 before Stargell's 24th homer of the year climaxed a seven-run seventh inning rally in the nightcap, now lead the second-place Mets by 3 1/2 lengths.

Cincinnati floored Atlanta 5-4 and 2-0, overcoming a grand slam by rookie Earl Williams in the opener, and San Francisco swept San Diego 6-2 and 2-0 in other NL doubleheaders. St. Louis edged the Chicago Cubs 5-4 and Houston outscored Los Angeles 9-7 in single games.

The bases-loaded homers by Johnson, Stargell and Williams equalled the league record of three grand slams in one day.

In the American League, Baltimore laced the New York Yankees 10-4; Boston nipped Washington 4-3; the Chicago White Sox stomped Minnesota 18-8; Oakland divided a doubleheader with Milwaukee, winning 11-4 and then bowing 7-4, and California split with Kansas City, taking the nightcap 8-4 after a 5-1 loss.

Cleveland shaded Detroit 7-7 in the 11-inning opener of another AL twin bill and led 7-6 in the eighth inning of the second game when a power failure forced suspension of play.

The Mets, who struck for three ninth inning runs to win the opener, had visions of trimming Pittsburgh's division lead to 1 1/2 games as they forged a 5-1 lead in the nightcap.

But Johnson's two-run double helped the Phils battle back to tie it, and he broke the 5-5 deadlock with a shot over the left field fence off Ron Taylor in the 11th after Terry Harmon's single, Larry Bowa's double and an intentional walk filled the bases against Jim McAndrew.

Johnson has hit nine homers this season—four of them against Met pitching.

Stargell hit a bases-empty homer and Richie Hebner drove in four runs with a homer and double as the Pirates won their opener behind Steve Blass, 8-3, who scattered nine Montreal hits.

But the Expos' Jim Britton, seeking his first victory since 1969, nursed a 1-0 lead into the seventh inning of the nightcap.

Then, pinch singles by Gene Clines and Bill Mazeroski plus a walk to Dave Cash filled the bases, bringing Mike Marshall out of the Montreal bullpen.

Vic Davalillo singled for one run, leaving the bases jammed, and Stargell hit Marshall's next pitch over the right field fence for four RBI and a season total of 65—tops in the majors.

The Pirates completed their seven-run burst of the year when Al Oliver singled and rookie Mile May homered.

Williams gave Atlanta a 4-2 sixth inning lead in the opener at Cincinnati with his first major league slam. But the Reds tied it in the eighth on doubles by Tommy Helms and Bernie Carbo, then won it on Johnny Bench's run-producing single in the ninth.

Don Gullett, 8-2, and reliever Clay Carroll teamed up to blank the Braves on five hits in the second game.

George Foster stole home in the second inning and homered in the fourth as the Reds won for the seventh time in their last nine starts.

However, they still are 13 1/2 games behind the West Division-leading Giants, who finished off a five-game blitz of San Diego behind a five-run eighth inning rally in the opener and rookie Steve Stone's three-hit, 11-strikeout pitching in the nightcap.

Willie McCovey's three-run punch homer capped the winning first game rally.

Allison Nicknamed Untouchable

RIVERSIDE, Calif. (AP) —

Lots of practice and an electronic gizmo have provided Bobby Allison with a new nickname in stock car racing—"The Untouchable."

The 33-year-old Allison used a two-way walkie-talkie-type radio Sunday to capture first place in NASCAR's 400-mile Golden State Grand National Race for stock cars. The 100-degree-plus heat barely affected him.

Touring Riverside International Raceway's 2.6-mile road course at an average speed of 93.622 miles an hour, the resident of Hueytown, Ala., notched his fourth victory in a row on this gruelling circuit which Richard Petty once owned.

Inside Allison's helmet was a small receiver through which the driver listened to his brother Eddie in the pits full of crackups and rough spots on the track. Allison, using a voice-actuated microphone, was able to let his pit crew know what he wanted done on his next pit stop, saving precious seconds.

Bobby is a devout Catholic and race day being Sunday, he made sure things were squared away in that corner by attending church in the morning. And appropriately, the name of the church was, "Our Lady of Perpetual Help."

And just for added insurance, Bobby got in a little practice for the 400-mile event by spending Saturday night relaxing behind the wheel of an older—vintage car on a small track in nearby San Bernardino, P.S.—He won that sportmen's race too.

All in all, it was quite a weekend for Allison, who now has won nearly $100,000 in his last four weeks of racing and is fourth in NASCAR point stand-

Hornets 2-1 Over Travelers

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Travelers were defeated by the Charlotte Hornets, who took the Dixie Association game 2-1 here Sunday.

The win gave the Hornets a four-game sweep over Arkansas. The lone Arkansas score came in the eighth inning when Jorge Roque hit a single to center to bring Jack Stripling in for the run.

Both of the Hornet's runs came in the second inning.

Steve Evans was the losing pitcher. Vic Albury was the winning pitcher.

Harry Warner, Charlotte's manager, was ejected from the game in the eighth inning after he argued with umpire Bob Rainey about a call at third base.

Arkansas will play Shreveport at Little Rock Monday.

Other scores in the association Sunday were: Shreveport over Montgomery 8-5; Amarillo took a doubleheader from Dallas-Fort Worth, 3-0 and 1-0; San Antonio edged Albuquerque 3-2; Birmingham defeated Savannah 5-2 and Asheville split a doubleheader with Jacksonville 5-2 and 1-5.

West Has Choice Team This Year

By MIKE COCHRAN
LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP) — Nebraska Coach Bob Devaney faces a pleasant dilemma in deploying his West forces in the nationally televised All American football game Saturday night.

For starters, he's got Heisman Trophy winner Jim Plunkett of Stanford and Southern Methodist's quarterback Chuck Hixson to choose from to direct the assault.

Additionally, says Devaney, "I think we have some of the finest receivers I've seen in one of these games."

This group includes J.D. Hill of Arizona State, Chuck Dicus of Arkansas, Ernie Jennings of Air Force, Bob Moore of Stanford and Otto Stowe of Iowa State. Devaney, opposing a defensively tough East squad coached by Louisiana State's Charley McClendon, noted that fullbacks Bo Cornell of Washington and Dan Schniess of Nebraska are also fine receivers.

Hixson, in looking over the array of targets, said:

"They are tremendous. They are so fast and elusive and surehanded. It's a quarterback's dream, really."

Cornell Vs. Washington in Rowing

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — The Big Red or Cornell, a shocking victor over the University of Washington in the Intercollegiate Rowing Association championship get a chance for a return match with the Huskies this week in the U.S. trials for the Pan-American Games.

Both schools are entered in the Pan-Am qualifiers which are being conducted over the same 2,000-meter Onondaga Lake course where Cornell's varsity eight-oared crew nipped the heavily favored Huskies Saturday before 12,000 sunbaked fans.

Cornell posted only one victory during the regular rowing season and finished last in Thursday's qualifying races but earned a starting spot in the IRA finals by winning a repechage, or second chance, heat Friday.

In the title race, the Ivy Leaguers sprinted to an early lead and held on to win by a few feet over the fast-closing Washington boat. Cornell was clocked in 6 minutes, 4 seconds just 4 second faster than the Huskies. Third-place Penn was another boat-length back.

Washington, the defending IRA champions, had been widely considered the pre-race choice.

In other IRA championship races, Penn edged Cornell in the freshman eights and Navy shaded Northeastern in the junior varsity eights. The margin of victory in both contests was only 4 second.

Navy also won the varsity fours title over MIT, Penn took the freshman fours over the Youth Visitation Day was held at the Southwest Branch Experiment Station Thursday. More than 500 4-H members, adult leaders and Extension personnel attended. Cecil Biddle, assistant director of the Experiment Station, directed the group through the day's activities.

In this picture 4-H members view blueberry and raspberry research plots from two trailers. Associate County Extension Agents C.B. Smith and Robert Vandivere explained the plots to the group. The group also saw beef cattle and forestry research programs.

Says Pocono Is Roller Coaster

MT. POCONO, Pa. (AP) — Al Unser calls it a "roller coaster" course, and that may be the reason only three drivers got their cars on the new Pocono International Raceway during the first two days of practice.

Most drivers entered in the July 3 Schaefer 500, a $400,000 event that is the mid-point of championship racing's "triple crown," said their machines either weren't ready for the first weekend of shakedown runs, or hadn't arrived.

But Unser, a double Indianapolis 500 winner and current leader in USAC point standings by a whopping 1,180 points, wasn't really critical of Midshipmen and California nipped Kansas State in the varsity pairs.

Besides winning the feature race of the regatta, Cornell took possession of the Jim Ten Eyck Memorial Trophy, emblematic of best over-all showing in the three eight-oared events.

the $6 million facility that opened for the first time Saturday.

"It needs a bit of seasoning," the dark-haired, 32-year-old, youngest of the two driving brothers from Albuquerque, N.M., said. "Right now, I'd be concerned with some very definite ripples that you experience in the surface in the third turn. Maybe, with the right suspension on the car you wouldn't notice it."

Favorite Wins at Detroit

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer
There was a big upset at Detroit Race Course. The favorite won the Michigan Mile and One-Eighth.

In 23 runnings of the race, many favorites have been beaten, including such thoroughbred stars as Roman Brother, Tom Rolfe and Damascus, but Saturday Native Royalty got the job done.

And while Native Royalty was winning the richest Michigan Mile and One-Eighth, $132,200, Our Cheri Amour was winning the $131,625 Coaching Club American Oaks at Belmont Park and Son Ange was taking the $113,400 Pontiac Grand Prix at Arlington Park.

In Our Cheri Amour's impressive Coach Club American Oaks win, Deceit, trying to win the New York Racing Association's Triple Crown for 3-year-old fillies, finished seventh in a field of eight, level-weighted at 121 pounds.

DR. LAWRENCE E. LAMB
Links With Cancer Not Valid

Dear Dr. Lamb—In your newspaper articles you stress omitting animal fats from our diets. Have you any comments on the enclosed article reporting vegetable fats as a cause of cancer?

Dear Reader—The dairy publication you forwarded reports information out of context and misleads the public. There was a rash of similar scare reports about the possible relation of polyunsaturated fats to cancer and I think they were not in the public's interest.

Let's look at the facts. A study was done on only 846 men, half on regular diets and the rest on a diet containing large amounts of polyunsaturated fats. It was first reported that 31 men on the polyunsaturated diet developed cancer, and only 17 on the regular diet developed cancer.

But wait! A review of the data revealed that nine of the men counted on the polyunsaturated diet who developed cancer had NOT stayed on the diet. Now you can state the results another way. Of the men who stayed on the polyunsaturated diet only 22 developed cancer while in the men on regular diets who did not stay on the polyunsaturated diet, 26 men developed cancer. You could just as well say that unless you stayed on a polyunsaturated fat diet you would be more likely to develop cancer and that statement would be more valid than the publication from the dairy association you sent me. I don't think this is so, but it shows you what you can do with statistics.

Keep your eye on the big picture. The American Heart Association's recommendations and the recent recommendations by the federally funded Intersociety Commission on Heart Disease are based on more than 20 years of studies on a worldwide basis involving populations of whole nations and changes noted during enforced wartime diets. The millions of people studied over many years pro-

By Oswald & James Jacoby
Jim: "You wouldn't teach me bridge at home and I didn't learn the game until I was a freshman at Notre Dame. You learned at home didn't you?"

Oswald: "Yes, although my mother never approved of bridge. Austin Tomes, our family doctor, and my father played whist and bridge together. They taught me auction bridge with my Aunt Mabel rung in as a fourth. Here is a hand that father played."

Jim: "Since the game was auction he played in one spade. He would have been in game today."

Oswald: "He played to make four, just as any good player would do today. You got credit for everything you made in auction."

Jim: "He must have grabbed dummy's ace of hearts and led a low diamond at trick two."

Oswald: "Exactly. West won the queen, cashed a heart, and led a club. Father won; led a diamond to dummy's ace; ruffed a diamond high; played two rounds of trumps, stopping in dummy; ruffed another diamond high; entered dummy with the last high trump and discarded a club on the last diamond."

Jim: "Perfect technique. He could not afford to play ace and another diamond because he would be one entry short. Nor could he start by taking even one round of trumps since a second trump lead by West would also leave him one entry short."

What do you do now?
A—Keep right on doubling.

TODAY'S QUESTION
You do double and your partner bids two hearts. What do you do now?
Answer Tomorrow

vide the basis for most of these recommendations.

People with low levels of heart disease have been eating diets rich in polyunsaturated fat for centuries without any evidence of increased cancer. In fact the highest rate of cancer of the colon and rectum in the world is in the United States and Canada by a wide margin, while Africans on the spartan diet of natural food components and lots of bulk have a very low incidence of cancer.

Most news reports of the polyunsaturated diet study failed to mention that the men on diets high in polyunsaturated fat had only 48 fatal heart attacks while the other group had 70. People have a habit of dying of something. If you prevent heart disease the second most common cause of death is cancer, so what do you expect? As more people live to older ages because they did not have heart attacks there will be more people die of cancer unless we lick that problem. But in the meantime there are large numbers of YOUNG American men needlessly dying of heart disease because of poor living patterns—including their diet.

Complains About Districts

FORREST CITY, Ark. (AP) — Gov. Dale Bumpers says reapportioning the state's legislative districts makes it impossible for a "man to maintain his political popularity."

"On the matter of reapportionment, there is no way to win," Bumpers said Saturday night at an Industrial Day banquet attended by about 300 persons.

Bumpers is chairman of the state Board of Apportionment which has tentatively adopted a single-member plan for redistricting the state. However, the governor said recently that the board might reconsider its plans in light of a U.S. Supreme Court decision that multi-member districts are not unconstitutional.

Groups to Make Requests

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Five groups are to appear before the state Highway Commission Tuesday to request various projects and road improvements.

State Sen. Olen Hendrix of Prescott will lead a delegation that is to ask the commission to build a primary road between Magnolia and Kirby (Pike County).

Other groups are scheduled to request:

- Addition to the state highway system and improvement of a county road from Arkansas 128 to Arkansas 7 at Oak Vower (Hot Spring County).
- Improvement of Arkansas 5 north of Heber Springs.
- Improvement of Arkansas 270 from Malvern to the intersection with Arkansas 51.
- A high-water bridge on Arkansas 74 between Thola and Alco (Searcy County).

Control of SW Africa Is Illegal

THE HAGUE (AP) — The International Court of Justice ruled today that South Africa's control over South-West Africa is illegal and Prime Minister John Vorster's government should surrender the former German colony immediately to the United Nations.

The court issued an advisory opinion, asked by the U.N., in which 13 justices concurred and one dissented. The opinion carries no legal weight, but it was considered an important element of international pressure on South Africa.

However, the court's ruling was expected to have no immediate effect on South Africa's control of the sparsely populated, mineral-rich territory which South Africa took over as a League of Nations mandate after World War I.

Vorster planned to reply to the court in a broadcast later today.

The United Nations has declared the League of Nations mandate no longer valid, and Secretary-General U Thant has called for an economic boycott of South Africa to enforce demands by black African states that independence be granted to the territory, which has been renamed Namibia by a U.N. vote.

These students were first place winners in Parliamentary Procedure at the state convention in Little Rock recently. First place winners in Vocabulary Relay competing in national competition are Margie Jewell and Carina Cato (not pictured).

J. W. Rowe, Director, and Royce Pendergrass, Coordinator, are in Miami with the group as advisors.

Christian Softball Action

In Christian Athletic Association softball action Saturday night, First Methodist defeated 5th and Grady Church of Christ 17 to 9 in the first game. In the second game Hope Church of Christ was beaten 19-17 by Unity Baptist. Ronny Brown hit two homers for Unity Baptist.

Corn Belt Downs Blevins

Corn Belt downed Blevins 20 to 2 and First National beat Anderson-Frazier 5 to 3 in Babe Ruth League action Friday night at Legion Field.

Corn Belt's McCorkle allowed Blevins only two runs on three hits while striking out four batters. His teammates collected 18 hits, scoring 20 runs to have a run-away victory.

The second game of the night was a close game with First National winning to pull up to a three-way tie for third place in the league standings. Scoring three runs in the second inning and adding two more in the third, First National barely held on to win as Anderson-Frazier scored two in the fifth and added one more in the sixth. Bramlett was the winning pitcher for First National with Bilbo coming in to pitch the 7th inning.

At present, league standings are:

Team	W	L
Citizens National	8	2
Corn Belt	7	3
Merchants	4	6
Anderson-Frazier	4	6
First National	4	6
Blevins	3	7

Says Mills Could Solve Problems

SIKESTON, Mo. (AP) — Rep. Bill Alexander, D-Ark., says Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, a fellow Arkansas Democrat, could provide solutions to the nation's critical problems, restore confidence in the economy and provide direction to a "meandering" foreign policy if elected president in 1972.

Alexander, speaking Saturday night at the final session of the two-day annual convention of Missouri Young Democrats, said the election of Mills could help bring an end to "politics of illusion" in the United States.

The congressman was critical of what he said was a tendency among contemporary officer seekers to appeal to frustrations of voters rather than to challenge their optimism.

Alexander said Mills' long experience on fiscal matters gave him a special understanding of the financial needs of state and local governments. He also said Mills understood the mechanics

CBC Defeats James Motor Co.

Lions defeated Barry's six to three in the first game of Friday night's Little League action. In the second game James Motor Co. was defeated 15 to 13 by the CBCs. Six to two was the score as the Sheriff's team toppled Hope Auto Co. in the third game.

Hope 8-4 Over Magnolia

Sunday afternoon at Legion Field the Hope Junior American Legion team whipped Magnolia, 8-4 for the seventh victory against eight defeats.

Hope used a four run second inning to get an early lead, adding one run in the second, and then holding a Magnolia comeback to four runs. Three more runs in the fifth inning just about put the final icing on the win, although Magnolia did threaten again.

Richard Butler once again showed some fine pitching going the distance for his third victory while scattering six hits. He walked three and struck out two while relying on the defense to back him up.

Buddy Ingram, Jim Arrington, and Perry Henley each had two hits to lead Hope with Paul Young and Bill Rowland also getting key hits.

Hope's next game is at Legion Field on Tuesday night against Camden. Gametime is at 7:30 p.m.

New Ideas for U.S. Withdrawl

By WALTER R. MEARS
AP Political Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate, after refusing to force a Vietnam withdrawal date on the President, may now be willing to nudge him toward one, says Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield.

Mansfield said he sees good chances for Senate passage of some measure he said would amount to a psychological push for getting U.S. forces out of Vietnam by a set date.

One such measure would require U.S. withdrawal in nine months if American prisoners are released. Another would recommend a non-binding pull-out date of July 4, 1972.

"It would be a cause of great concern, I would think, downtown if the Senate passed such a resolution," Mansfield said. "The effect of all these resolutions is really psychological."

of dealing with other nations in the field of international trade.

"The Democrats do not need a show horse as a presidential nominee in 1972," Alexander said. "We need a master craftsman in government — Wilbur Mills."

Action Curbs Theft of Food Stamps

By DON KENDALL
AP Farm Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The director of the food stamp program says tighter local handling rules have reduced thefts, which have topped $1 million total in six years.

"We think the burglaries and other theft operations from local offices are definitely tapering off," James E. Springfield said in an interview. "In several cases, thieves have entered a place and not found any stamps because they have been removed and put in a vault."

Springfield said more restrictive measures were put into effect over the past year after investigators found situations where coupons and "authorization for purchase" cards were lying around offices. States are accountable for losses.

Since the program began nationally in 1965, more than $1.3 million in stamps has been stolen. Last year alone,

Springfield said, the department's Food and Nutrition Service billed the states for more than $474,000 in losses.

Springfield also said the department has started publishing nationally names of storekeepers it says violate stamp trading rules. Until recently, names of such storekeepers only were released locally.

"It was started to show that the department does, in fact, go after these people," Springfield said. "And we hope that by doing this, it will act as a deterrent to others."

Springfield said about 170 stores a year are disqualified.

Fired Professors to Complain

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP) — The Arkansas State University Board of Trustees will meet July 12 to hear a report concerning the complaints of two teachers who say they have been fired without cause by the ASU administration.

The instructors are Dr. Mary Susan Power, a political science professor, and Dr. James A. Key, an English professor.

A five-member Faculty Senate Committee is to compile the report which will be submitted to the board.

A controversy began last year when the administration fired Dr. Bill Stroud, a philosophy professor, and Dr. Ronald Hayworth, a history teacher.

The Board of Trustees has twice overridden the administration's firing of stroud, but the professor says the administration has indicated it will fire him for a third time next year. Hayworth filed a $25,000 damage suit against the school, but dropped the suit last month after he accepted a teaching post in Texas.
